Permanent Registration

A bill which would have established a system of permanent registration of voters in Illinois has been blocked in the legislature. It provides for registration by personal signature of the voter and is designed to eliminate fraudulent names from the election rolls.

Promoters of the bill estimate that there are more than 200,000 false names on the rolls in Chicago alone. They claim that honest voters are staying away from the polls because they feel that they have no chance to make their opinion count against such heavy odds. If these conditions are true, it is a sad commentary on our democratic system of elections.

It would seem that a permanent registration law would be a good thing and would safeguard the integrity of the ballot. It should be remembered that election frauds which become practice are symptoms of a more serious disease affecting the body politic. They are the forerunners of the decay of a system which should form the cornerstone of democracy.

No system, however, perfect it may appear, will work itself satisfactory, nor will it stand abuse by dishonest men. Any sound system will work if honest men operate it. Our system of elections is as good as can be devised; we have the secret ballot, and the proper machinery for registration and for counting of votes. But if those in charge of our elections choose to commit fraud, only more strict regulations can bring a remedy.

If the legislature can provide a permanent registration plan that will put the names of citizens on the rolls for the duration of their residence in the precinct, this should go far toward eliminating fraud. The law is at least worth trying.

The RFC Steps In

Norman C. Norman, New York jeweler, who was the promoter of the gold clause case that went to the U. S. Supreme court, and who is said to have defied the NRA jeweler's code, has again broken into the headlines with a suit to restrain the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from voting the controlling stock in a certain private concern. It might have been foreseen that Uncle Sam to whom many corporations handed their stock in exchange for loans, might some day seek to exercise his rights as a stockholder. It appears that the RFC recently elected five of the eight directors in an interlocking corporation, thru which it seeks to control another concern. Mr. Norman is averse to such control, but how is he going to prevent it? The government has the stock and can exercise the voting privilege. If it can obtain proxies to give it majority control, it will of course own the concern or at least dictate its policies.

When Uncle Sam steps into the maze of interlocking directorates he finds himself in a strange place. Only a few years ago he wielded the "big stick" to break up such combines, but now he is himself a stockholder and reaching out for control. Is this another case of "If you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

Our Picturesque Speech

Dan Webster, Henry Clay and John Calhoun were great orators in their day, but nobody remembers much about what they said. They used the English language in a dignified manner, and in that day were well understood and honored.

But the government spokesmen and opposing orators of today take the language into their own hands and send forth a most picturesque verbiage. They, too, are well understood, and what they have to say is received with zest by the public.

The latest addition to modern phraseology is contributed by one Harold Ickes. He says Senator Huey Long has "halitosis of the intellect." The phrase is so striking that men of the press doubt whether Mr. Ickes is the real author, but they cannot determine otherwise.

Senator Long replies that he will "nail Ickes' ears back" on the floor of the senate. The people await the new exhibition at carpentry with much anticipation.

Meanwhile Gen. Hugh Johnson talks NRA. He frankly admits he didn't do as well by the New Deal pet as he might, but pleads thusly: "Wash the baby; don't throw it down the drain pipe." Which leads us to wonder why Johnson didn't practice what he now preaches.

All this verbal bombast adds nothing to the dignity of the government. We are at a loss to know whether it is inspired by real emotion of the speakers or by a mere desire to attract public attention. If the latter motive prevails, the boys with the clever tongues should be well satisfied with results.

Short Comment

The sheriff of Sullivan county N. H., arrested and fined himself $100 for operating a car while intoxicated. Too bad he didn't have pull enough with himself to avoid the consequences. Now he'll probably kick himself out of office for treating himself so rough.

The AAA is said to be ruining the lard market abroad. That's greasing the skids in a big way.

Now that the fishing season is opening, we hope the Isaaks of 1935 will be zealous for the truth, but we have our doubts.

New Police Radio

Plans for a police radio system for Illinois are in the making. Seven broadcasting stations are to cover the state. As yet their locations have not been determined, and it is hoped Jacksonville will be one of the cities selected.

Jacksonville is well situated, being the hub for the intersection of three principal highways of the state. A station located here would cover all of western Illinois, and squad cars patrolling the roads within a sixty mile radius would have communication with it.

It is hoped citizens will get behind a movement to secure one of the police radio stations for this city. There are many good arguments for its selection. Such a system offers means of protection against criminals, and has accomplished good results where it is already in operation. Radio listeners who pick up police calls know the stations cover a wide range of territory and provide accurate information.

The Chicago Fair

From The Chicago Tribune
The success of A Century of Progress has led many citizens to hope that something of the sort can be established as a permanent summertime attraction in Chicago. The plan to use a part of the Fair site for the purpose will be generally approved, provided the exposition is of the right character.

The kind of show desired will include industrial displays such as the automobile companies provided last summer. No mere industrial museum can ever present that kind of material so well, partly because the rapid changes in technology make the models of only a few years ago obsolete. The industrial nucleus of the fair could be changed from year to year. After automobiles, airplanes, after airplanes, agricultural machinery, railroad equipment, chemical products, and so on.

A fair built around such a nucleus could offer, in addition, high grade entertainment such as orchestral concerts and less high-brow attractions such as the villages and the Midway provided last summer.

To run a fair of desirable character requires a nonpolitical management. The reason A Century of Progress was a success in every sense and the Philadelphia fair a flop can be summarized in a sentence: The Chicago management was non-political while the Philadelphia management was political. If a permanent fair is to be successful in Chicago, the first consideration should be to provide a management which will resemble that of A Century of Progress, the Art Institute, the universities, the Field Museum, the Brookfield zoo and the Planetarium. Control should be vested in a non-political, self-perpetuating board of responsible citizens, owing no obligation to any politician or political organization.

To the Editor of The Jacksonville Journal:

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 20.—See where a governor down in Georgia has also seceded from the union. That gets his state off the relief rolls. Well that means more to divvy up among the rest. I tell you I am going to try and get Oklahoma and California to do nothing in any way that will cause Secretary Ickes to shut off our water.

And speaking about people calling people things, did you see what Hitler called England and what Mussolini called everybody. But Hugh Johnson was the real hero. He took the rap himself.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Deaths Pile Up as Lobbyists Continue to Block Food and Drug Bill . . . Senate Foes Wreck Measure With Amendments . . . Glaring Gaps Revealed in Survey.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington.—Quite a few people have died painful deaths in the year since the first administration food and drug bill was killed, because they used fake patent medicines or cosmetics. Others have been blinded or otherwise maimed.

You'll find the record in publications of the American Medical Association. Of course it is unfair to expect politicians to be influenced by a little thing like that. The fate of this year's Copeland food and drug bill depends on whether a consumer's lobby can make things hot enough for certain senators who have been willing to sabotage the measure.

Consumers really haven't any lobby as such, but the job of rescuing the Copeland bill has been taken over by what's known here as the "female bloc," legislative representatives of a dozen or more national women's organizations. This group has been rather dead at times past. Already it has stirred up a large flow of squawk mail to senators.

But the lobbyists for food companies, patent medicine companies, and insecticide companies—which want less federal regulation of use of arsenic on apples in bug-killing processes—have the edge to date.

Worse Than No Bill

The bill was snatched off the Senate floor after Senators Bennett Clark and Josiah Bailey and the lobbyists had loaded it with so many amendments that Copeland felt it was worse than no bill at all.

The "female bloc" now seeks enough support to have the bill brought back to the floor with assurance that such amendments can be defeated, which means it must change eight or nine senatorial minds.

Its legislative committee represents the American Association of University Women, American Dietetic Association, American Home Nurses' Association, Medical Women's National Association, Y.W.C.A. National Board, National Congress of Parent-Teachers, National League of Women Voters, National Council of Jewish Women, National Women's Trade Union League, General Federation of Women's Clubs, and W.C.T.U.

Cosmetic Is Deadly

When I dropped in to see Miss Alice Edwards of the Home Economics Association, I observed a tableful of cans and jars of various patented foods, some of them well known. I'd seen the Food and Drug Administration's "chamber of horrors" exhibiting various deadly drugs and cosmetic preparations.

(While hearings were being held this year, a beauty parlor operator in Florida was giving her mother a treatment with an eyelash preparation. Nine days later the mother died from the effects. She was unlucky. Most victims only go blind. The preparation has been publicly denounced by the Food and Drug Administration, but there's no law against it. It can be bought here on Pennsylvania avenue.)

Well, it seemed the lobbyist for the food industries—Charles Wesley Damp—had persuaded Copeland in effect to exempt proprietary foods from the bill's requirements for listing ingredients so people might know what they were eating—and paying for.

Some Glaring Gyps
The Edwards exhibit and its analyses showed, for instance:
A celebrated chicken sandwich spread: Three-ounce can, 86 per cent chicken skin, 8.5 per cent chicken broth, 2.6 per cent cracker meal, 2.8 per cent spices. Price 15 cents. Cost of ingredients 1 cent.

A can of "baby and invalid food": 90 per cent dried whole milk, 10 per cent starch. Price $1.35, cost of ingredients 20 cents.

Can of reducing food, promising to eliminate that hungry feeling: 65 per cent sugar. Price $1. Cost of ingredients 8 cents.

I said to Miss Edwards that it looked as if people were suckers. She said it did. But the fact that they were being gyped was only of secondary importance.

Many people have allergies—an allergy is a sensitiveness to certain foods. Some people, for instance, can't get within a mile of an apple or an egg without becoming violently ill. Everything, nearly, is an allergy to somebody.

Anybody might go on being ill until he died, simply because he didn't know what was in a favorite can or jar of patented food.

Amendment Ruins Bill
For six days the bill was debated in the Senate and Copeland was virtually the only senator who said anything about protecting consumers. The others who spoke sought to weaken the bill.

Bailey had the best success. His amendment would prevent the Food and Drug Administration from seizing more than a single sample of a dangerous food or drug product without a legal procedure which might require years to complete.

There'll be no new food and drug act unless Bailey's amendment is killed, as it would give the government even less power to protect consumers than it has now.

Here's an Election that Is Not On the Books

Road District Vacancy Will Be Filled as a Result

Coming—an election that's not legal! It's not legal even before it is held. The county commissioners know it; everybody knows it. But the results will have a direct bearing on who the county board appoints as road commissioner in District No. 12 at Nortonville.

Smashing all records for unique events in Morgan county election history, the election will take place at Nortonville next Saturday, April 27. The "candidate" receiving the largest number of votes will be appointed road commissioner.

Details of the unexpected road district election were announced at the court house Saturday, after the commissioners were confronted with the job of appointing a commissioner to fill a vacancy. Ernest Henry was duly elected commissioner on April 2, but has not qualified for the office. It now becomes the duty of the commissioners to make an appointment.

Wishing to obtain the complete sentiment of voters of the district, the board has decided to hold another election. The board has the authority to make an appointment immediately without any formalities, but took the other course. The people of the district will be given a chance to vote in the usual way and the winner will be duly appointed to fill the vacancy.

The polling place will be located at Nortonville, the polls to be open between the hours of 7 a. m. and 5 p. m.

My Cookery News Notes

By LUCILE HARRIS

Editor's Note: "Cookery News Notes" is a new feature of this newspaper, and will be followed with interest by our women readers. The writer is Lucile Harris, staff member of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, recognized authority on cookery of all kinds and especially meat cookery and the planning of meals around the meat course. Experimental cookery has developed a good deal of new information about cooking meat, which is contrary to old ideas. This series of articles will give our readers this new information in helpful form, and will also give a series of excellent recipes and suggestions for serving the meat course of the meal.

REFRIGERATOR HELPS ON PARTY MEAT DISHES

Today I am suggesting that you try some kind of a cold meat combination (a delicious jellied meat loaf or meat mousse) for the main dish at your next party. Meat dishes which you can serve cold may be prepared ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator. The clever hostess is the one who uses the refrigerator to every possible advantage. She plans her menus in such a way that she can spend her time entertaining her guests instead of worrying about her luncheon.

After planning the main dish for your party, the other foods seem to fall into line without difficulty, so I'm going to give you several recipes for the main dish, any of which will be delicious.

Sweetbreads are always favorite delicacies so I've selected a sweetbread mousse for you—

Sweetbread Mousse.

1 cup hot stock
1 cup cold water
1 pint
1 tablespoon gelatin
1 cup sweetbreads
1 cup whipping cream
Salt
Pepper

Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve in the hot stock. Cool slightly, add sweetbreads, which have been blanched and finely chopped. When this begins to stiffen, fold in the cream, whipped stiff. Decorate a mold with pieces of pimento. Pour in the sweetbread mixture and set aside to chill. When thoroughly set, unmold, and garnish with watercress and radish roses.

It may be well if you haven't used sweetbreads often, to know what they are. True sweetbreads are the thymus glands of a calf or young beef—there are two in each animal—one a rather round gland, the heart sweetbread, and the other, a longer gland, the throat sweetbread. Sometimes the pancreas is sold as a sweetbread too—but this organ is not a true sweetbread.

Blanching Directions.
A question which may occur to you is about that part of the preparation of the sweetbreads called "blanching." This is a sort of pre-cooking operation which helps to make the meat firm and easier to handle. In blanching sweetbreads, we cook them gently in slightly acidulated water, about 1 tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice to a quart of water will be the proportion. It will require about half an hour for this cooking method which should always be used for sweetbreads regardless of how they will be prepared later.

Another mousse recipe, which I like, uses ham and makes a beautiful platter when unmolded and ready to serve—here is the recipe—

Ham Mousse.

3 cups boiled ham, minced
1 1/2 tablespoons gelatin
1 cup cold water
2-3 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup whipping cream
Few grains cayenne
Lettuce

Mayonnaise dressing
Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Add the boiling water and still until dissolved. Add ham, paprika, cayenne and parsley. Fold in the whipped cream and pour into a ring mold which has been dipped in cold water. Set in the refrigerator until stiff. Unmold onto a nicely garnished platter. Garnish mold with mayonnaise roses, made with a pastry tube.

And here is a recipe for a jellied veal mould—

Jellied Veal.
3 pounds knuckle of veal
1 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon pepper
1 cup sliced carrots
1 medium-sized onion
1 teaspoon salt

Put meat, celery, carrots and onion in kettle and let simmer until tender. Let the liquid cook down until it makes about 1 cup; strain and set aside. When the meat is nearly cold, cut into tiny cubes; remove the fat from the broth. Reheat and stir the veal into it, add salt and pepper and other seasoning (if desired) and cooked vegetables. Pack into loaf pan or mold. Place a piece of wax paper over the meat and on this place a weight. Let stand until cold and set. Allow 3 hours to mold.

When you are cooking the veal do not allow the water to boil. It should just simmer if you want juicy, flavorful veal for your jellied veal mould.

Lamb in mint jelly makes an excellent dish for the party supper. Here is the way it is prepared:

Lamb in Mint Jelly.
3 cups cooked diced lamb
2 tablespoons gelatin
1 cup cold water
12 stalks mint
1 1/2 cups boiling liquid
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon paprika
Stuffed olives
Mayonnaise dressing
Green coloring
Lettuce

Soften the gelatin in cold water. Wash mint, tie in a bunch, and cook for 10 minutes in boiling liquid. Pour over the softened gelatin and stir until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Add lemon juice, salt, paprika, and a few drops of vegetable coloring. Cool and when beginning to set, stir in the diced lamb and turn into one large or six small individual molds previously dipped in cold water. Chill, unmold and garnish with lettuce, stuffed olives and mayonnaise.

MacMurray Seniors Observe "Cut Day"

Members Desert Class and Go to St. Louis Where They Attend Play

A traditional annual event for the senior class of MacMurray college is the observance of senior "Cut Day." On this occasion the entire senior class leaves classes all day and generally takes a pleasure trip.

Senior "Cut Day" was celebrated Friday by the class of 1935. The students left the college in the early part of the morning by auto and arrived at St. Louis, their destination, before noon. Various groups from the class spent the day shopping and sightseeing.

The major event of the trip took place in the evening, at which time the class attended Maxwell Anderson's production of Mary of Scotland, starring Helen Hayes and Philip Merivall. This was the second night for this production at the American Theatre.

The senior class returned to this city with enthusiastic appreciation of the theatre guild production, especially on the pictorial composition, the definiteness and artistry of the characters, also the effective and beautiful costuming of the play.

Sheriff Receives Announcement of Tax Time Changes

Payments of Installments and Personal Taxes
Extended Month

Sheriff Kenneth Woods, ex-officio tax collector in Morgan county, has received an official notice of the extension of tax-paying time on both personal property and real estate. The announcement was issued from the offices of Attorney General Otto Kern.

The time of paying taxes has been extended one month, with all other regulations in effect. First installment on real estate and full payment of personal taxes must be made by June 1 to avoid penalty; second installment on real estate must be made by September 1.

The communication from the attorney general said:

"Senate Bill 118 of the 59th General Assembly, containing an emergency clause, has passed both houses of the legislature, and was at noon of this date (April 18, 1935), signed by the governor, becoming effective as soon as his signature was affixed.

"This act extends the date after which the first installment of taxes becomes delinquent and begins to bear interest from May 1 to June 1, and the second installment from August 1 to September 1.

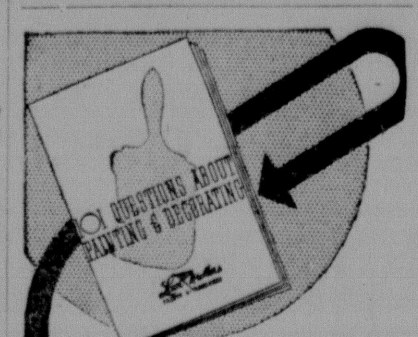

"Section 162 of the Revenue Act of 1923 was one of the sections amended by this Senate Bill 118, and since the section as amended omits the discount provision, from and after this date you should not allow any discount upon the second installment of taxes."

American League, went 14 innings today to turn back the Detroit Tigers 2 to 1 in a brilliant pitchers' battle. Successive singles by Hughes, Vosmik and Averill in the fourteenth produced the winning run. Oral Hildebrand, pitching with fine control went the route for the Tribe, scattering nine hits. He also provided the Indians with their first run in the sixth. Against Hildebrand Mickey Cochrane used his submarine ball pitcher.

Eldon Auker, lifted him for pinch hitter Fox in the eighth, and sent Joe Sullivan, the rookie Southpaw from Hollywood, out to finish the last six innings. It was Sullivan's debut in the big time, and he worked with the poise of a veteran, holding Cleveland hitless until the first of the fourteenth when he was nicked for the three blows that decided the game. Auker allowed but four blows in the eight frames he worked. Cleveland broke into the scoring column on Hildebrand's single in the sixth. A sacrifice by Hughes, Vosmik's single and Averill's long fly to White scored the Tribe flinger. Detroit counted in the ninth when Greenberg doubled and scored on Gehring's single. Hank doubled again in the 12th, but was left. Gehring with four hits in six trips was Detroit's most consistent hitter. ## Catching Equipment Great, Says J. Foxx

Has Kept Him Warm During Cold Games; Batting
Holding Up

New York.—(AP)—James Emory Foxx, considerable of a first baseman at one time, likes catching for the Athletics much better, but one of the reasons is hard to guess.

"With all that equipment on me," he explains, "I'm about the only one on the ball field able to keep warm in this cold weather. That helps a lot." He's caught only three games of the new season, all there have been, and there has been no sign so far of the falling off in batting power the experts predicted would come from his shift from first base to the catcher's box. He has hit two home runs in three games, indicating that the search for his successor as the home run king might be a bit premature.

"Who'll hit the most homers this year?" he repeated in answer to the direct question. "Well, I don't know. Hal Trosky will get a lot out in Cleveland. Lou Gehrig, with that short right field stand in New York, will hit plenty. Me? Oh, I'll get a few." Foxx likes catching better than first basing because he feels he's in the game more. He feels it's an ideal spot from which to captain the team, though he admits frankly that there's no great mental gymnastics required of him.

"All I do is carry orders from the boss—Connie Mack." As for hitting, Jimmie thinks he'll better last year's 334 and will play in about 135 games behind the plate. The grind of catching isn't liable to bother him a great deal. He weighs 185 now, is strong as a moose, and never has trouble with his weight. He actually put on six pounds through the last half of the 1934 season, where the heat and tension of the pace usually knocked several pounds off every player.

Wide Open Race Is Forecast

Chance Sun Will Go To Post
Favorite, But Dopesters
Are Undecided

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—The long shot players and the sure thing boys took stock of the Kentucky Derby hopefuls today and decided there was plenty of room for argument.

The arguments, they agreed, may have more to bite on one week from today when Churchill Downs opens its spring meeting. After the nom-lines match strides in some actual racing there will be a broader base of comparison.

The Derby, two weeks from today, probably will see Chance Sun, favorite since the close of his highly successful juvenile season, go to the post the odds-on favorite. But from here the race appears to be wide open. Some of the wise boys have gone so far as to offer a dollar or so that Chance Sun will not finish in the money.

Some of the "outsiders" have turned in rather impressive workouts, railbirds chirp with monotonous frequency that "anything can happen in a horse race." Hazy Autumn, a filly named by T. H. McCaffrey for both the Derby and the Kentucky Oaks caught the fancy of many by a rhythmic workout of a mile Friday, in 1:43 4-5, well in hand. Carroll Day, from Meehan Brothers Stable, stepped a faster mile in 1:42 2-5, but was tiring at the end. C. B. Shaffer's Finance, a speedy colt, went six furlongs under Snug Hold in 1:14. Bobby's Son took it easy over the mile course in 1:47. Conn Smythe's Direct Hit, By Display from Broom Market, another dark horse, went six furlongs in 1:15 4-5 under a hard pull all the way, "just crying to run," one watcher said.

Mrs. R. B. Fairbanks' Bluebeard apparently has recovered from last Sunday's slight injury, when he "grabbed" a quarter. He is due for a speed test tomorrow.

Stake blanks were received by horsemen at the Downs, where some 1,200 thoroughbreds are quartered, for the spring meeting at Latonia. Prizes include the $15,000 Latonia Derby and seven $2,500 endowments. Stakes close May 2.

Yankees Trim Athletics 3 To 1

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Joe Cascarella's wildness brought about his undoing in a keen mound duel with Lefty Gomez today and the Yankees defeated the Athletics 3 to 1 before a crowd of 24,342.

Cascarella gave only four hits but handed out six walks while Gomez was granting seven blows and only one pass. The deciding runs were scored in the fifth on passes to Frank Crosetti and Red Rolfe, a double by Dixie Walker and George Selkirk's single. The Yanks scored again in the eighth on Rolfe's double, a sacrifice and Gehrig's fly after Cascarella had driven in the Philadelphia run following Alex Hooks' double in the seventh.

Score: Philadelphia . . . 000 000 100-1 7 3 New York . . . 000 020 01X-3 4 1 Cascarella and Foxx; Gomez and Dickey.

Braves Smother Dodgers 7 To 1

Boston, April 20.—(AP)—A pitching duel between Ben Cantwell and Van Mungo broke wide apart in the eighth inning when the Braves battered Mungo for five runs and defeated Brooklyn 7 to 1. Cantwell held the Dodgers to seven hits.

Babe Ruth provided a source of excitement in the sixth inning when he pulled up lame at second after Wally Berger's hit which sent Boston into the lead. He was forced out of the game, but later discovered the trouble was nothing more serious than a cramp in his right leg. The Babe had singled behind a walk to Les Mallon, who scored on Berger's single.

The big eighth inning included a walk, four hits including a double by Frank Hogan and an error by Lonnie Frey.

This afternoon will be the last opportunity to see the oil paintings and reproductions now on view at the Strawn gallery.

Repercussions in 1936 are Feared as Result of Clashes

shadowed plainly, some observers said, by latest developments in the New Deal's controversies with Senator Huey P. Long and Governor Talmadge of Georgia.

President Roosevelt's assertion yesterday that he was trying to keep politics out of relief, and the charge by Senator Hastings (R., Del.) that the administration is "playing politics with relief," gave an indication of the direction which future campaign clashes might take. Hastings contended the government is denying aid to persons who do not subscribe to its policies.

Governor Talmadge of Georgia, whose connection with the administration of federal relief funds in his state was severed after he had described the president as "a radical of the extreme form," showed no signs of relaxing his opposition to the Roosevelt government.

"The federal government has undertaken to provide relief," commented Representative Castellow, Georgia Democrat, "and I think it is the opinion of our congressional delegation that the needy of our state should not be visited with punitive punishment because of a controversy between federal officials and our state officials."

JOE KNIGHT KNOWS A REAL ESTATE BARGAIN

Accepts Taunt and Gets Fifty Acres for $50

Joseph Knight, an assistant secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission, came here from Springfield Saturday to spend the week end, with out thought of business. But he had no sooner appeared in the business district until he became owner of 50 acres of land, at a price of $1 per acre.

Knight was sauntering along West State street when he heard an auctioneer's voice from in front of the court house. He went over to witness the sale.

Fifty acres of river bottom land across from Mercedia were on the block. The auctioneer challenged Knight to enter a bid and he said "fifty dollars."

"Sold," said the auctioneer. Knight has never seen the land but said he will take a chance on it being worth $1 an acre. The 50 acres lies directly along the river and Knight may have visions of a duck hunting preserve.

The tract was part of the estate of the late William Hauser, of which Howard Edlin is administrator. A house and lot in Mercedia also were sold subject to homestead claim for $60 to William Roegge, and a store building in the village was purchased by John Edlin for $100.

SEASONAL TREND IS REVERSED IN LABOR FIELD, FIGURES SHOW

Chicago—(P)—Reversing the normal seasonal change, industries in Illinois showed a 1 per cent gain in employment and a 2.2 per cent gain in wages paid in March over those of February, the Illinois Department of Labor announced today.

The index of employment rose during the month to 73.2 as compared to 69.6 in March of 1934. Peter T. Swansh, chief of the division of statistics and research, said. The index of payrolls advanced from 50.7 for March of a year ago to 57.9 this March.

Twenty-Five Years of Competition Fails to Obsolete Speedway Bricks at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — After 25 years of fast traffic, the hallowed bricks of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway still remain the best medium for automobile racing and the track itself continues to be the safest route of its kind in the world.

This is the opinion of experts making an inspection of the two-and-a-half mile oval in preparation for the annual 500-mile race to be held here on May 30. Besides brick, race tracks have been constructed of dirt, concrete and wood. Only the bricks at Indianapolis and dirt tracks remain in use. Concrete has been declared too demanding of tires.

Board tracks were abandoned several years ago because they splintered under hard traffic and became extremely dangerous. Dirt tracks often provide unstable footing, are dusty in dry weather and slippery in wet weather.

It is estimated that in 22 races at Indianapolis — racing having been suspended in 1917 and 1918 because of the World War — that the bricks have withstood some 250,000 miles of competitive driving. The track was bricked in 1910.

Waynesburg College To Reward Gridders

Varsity Men Will Receive Board, Room, Tuition, Director Says

Waynesburg, Pa.—(P)—As far as Athletic Director Frank Wolf of Waynesburg College is concerned the football boys who make the varsity will receive certain emoluments and he says "we here in Waynesburg are not afraid to state our case."

Frankly stating that if a player is good enough to get on the team he will receive his room, board, tuition and books, Wolf added:

"The theory of Simon—pure athletics is all right but it does not work out in practice. A boy who works hard all season on the athletic field should not give his services completely free of charge."

President Paul R. Stewart is out of the city and has not stated his position on Wolf's outspoken athletic policy.

At nearby Washington and Jefferson College, a Waynesburg rival for years, an absolute policy of "no subsidization" has gone into effect.

Share Prices Up In Brisk Session

Transactions Run High for Two Hour Session

New York—(P)—Share prices surged up $1 to $3 in the most vigorous Saturday buying in nearly a year today. Transactions ran to 880,820 shares in the 2 hour trading session between the Good Friday holiday and the week-end, although the attendance in Wall street was light, many traders having left town for the week-end on Thursday.

Industrial shares set the pace, but virtually all groups participated in the striking bull movement, which lifted price averages within a few points of the year's high.

While many of the commodity markets were closed, price trends were mostly upward in those which were open, including the Chicago grain pit. The bond market was improved but was relatively less strong than the stock market.

DETONATE 32 TONS OF EXPLOSIVE NEAR ST. LOUIS IN QUARRY

East St. Louis, Ill. — (P) — With a crash that caused an earth tremor in this area, a giant wall of limestone, 700 feet long, 105 feet high and 22 feet deep, was blasted at a quarry south of here last night.

Thirty-two tons of dynamite were set off, loosening about 150,000 tons of rock. Some of the loosened slabs were as large as two-story houses.

RAISE TEACHERS' SALARIES

Allerton, Ill.—(P)—Teachers in the little red school houses are getting some good news. Instructors in a majority of the one-room country schools in this district are getting pay increases. Schools paying $50 a month are raising salaries to $60 and those paying $60 are hiring their instructors for $65 and $70. A few are paying as high as $75 and $80.

Easter Week Draws Crowd to Holy City

Large Number of Jews in Jerusalem Now

Jerusalem—(P)—Hundreds of American Christians and Jews joined the throngs in their churches and synagogues today for the overlapping Easter week and passover celebrations.

There was an unusually large number of Jews from all parts of the world, many of whom came to Palestine for the recent Jewish "Olympic" games at Tel Aviv, and remained over for the passover which began Thursday.

Holy Saturday brought an overflowing crowd of Christian worshippers to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre where a Pontifical high mass was celebrated this morning by the Latin Patriarch in front of the tomb. Services also were held at St. George's Cathedral.

Defendant in Drake Estate Fraud Case Dies in His Hotel

Heart Attack Fatal to Man Who Waived Preliminary Hearing Friday

Chicago—(P)—James F. Kirkendall, 66, one of the five defendants charged with a part in the huge "Sir Francis Drake estate" swindle, died of a heart attack in his hotel apartment late last night, police disclosed today. Kirkendall was free under bond.

Kirkendall, a Chicagoan, was arraigned yesterday with three companions and waived preliminary examination before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. They were bound over to the grand jury under $10,000 bonds on charges of using the mails to defraud, but Kirkendall's bond was reduced to $5,000 on the plea he needed medical attention.

The five men were arrested two weeks ago in a raid on a north side hotel where police said they maintained headquarters for an enterprise that bilked thousands of dollars, chiefly from mid-westerners, in the hope of sharing in a fictitious English estate.

See New Attack on Government Moves

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Puts Item on Agenda

Washington—(P)—A new attack against what critics call government "intrusion in business" was predicted in official quarters today as a probable outcome of the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, April 29 to May 2.

A high official, who would not be quoted by name, said that although business has always opposed government interference, many executives feel that currents now in motion for shadow operations by the federal power far greater than ever before.

An indication of the importance of this topic was given in the chamber's "Washington Review," published today.

"One of the major concerns of business today," the Review said "is the encroachment of government into the business field as a competitor of private enterprise."

USE QUALITY FEEDS . . .

Quality, rather than price should be the deciding factor in buying baby chick feed or for that matter any feed. A baby chick will eat about 2 pounds of feed during its first six weeks of life. Cheap feeds are usually priced about 50c per 100 lbs. less than those of higher quality.

The cheaper feed will save only .01c per bird during the first six weeks, which are the most important weeks, and will lose far more than that amount in slower development.

Reopen Effort to Secure Passage of Registration Bill

See Means of Eliminating Fraudulent Voting, Cutting Costs

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Although regarded as virtually dead for more than a week, a strong fight was underway today to revive legislation for the permanent registration of voters in Chicago and some of the larger downstate cities.

Buried in a house sub-committee as a result of the opposition of Chicago Democrats, the permanent registration bills are advocated by the Illinois League of Women Voters, the Chicago Association of Commerce and similar organizations as a means of eliminating fraudulent voting and reducing election costs.

With added support from Chicago newspapers, an effort is to be made Tuesday to bring the plan back on the house calendar.

Rep. Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Chicago Republican, is sponsor of the permanent registration bills, which would apply to all cities having election commissions.

The plan is to require all voters in the cities involved to permanently register their names, signatures being part of the record. At a primary or general election, the person applying for a ballot would have to sign his name again for comparison with the original records.

SAY FIRST GIRL BORN IN COUNTY SARAH CRAIN

Morgan History, Tradition
Cited In Statement
Of Births

A recent article, which appeared in this paper relative to the first female child born in Morgan county, has aroused interest among a number of persons interested in the history of Morgan county and Jacksonville. This article stated that the first female child born in the county was Jane Lucinda Vansyckle, discounting history that says Julia A. Landley was the first white child born in this county.

Another claim is now inserted into the statements concerning the first female born in Morgan county, this assertion stating that Sarah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crain, was the first, her birth occurring at Diamond Grove in 1820. No question has arisen as to the authenticity of the claim that the first female white child born in Jacksonville was Ellen Reardon, but there is a variance of opinions as to the county's first female child.

According to a book compiled by the Samuel W. Nichols Gallery and presented to Nicholas Milburn, father of O. F. Milburn, 1065 South Clay avenue, Mrs. Ellen Reardon Conn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Reardon, was the first girl born in Jacksonville. Anderson Foreman, who was a number of years conducted a grocery store on East State street, also says that Ellen Reardon is the first white girl born in Jacksonville, and this is stated in "Historic Morgan and Classic Jacksonville" by Charles M. Eames.

Another local resident interested in early Jacksonville history says that in the story recently published in the Journal the date that Seymour Kellogg settled here is incorrect. The story according to this historian is as follows:

"The region now in Central Illinois between the Illinois river and the Indiana state line was claimed by the Kickapoo Indians. They were a savage war like folk, who resented the coming of white settlers, successfully until they secured their claim to the United States, which they did not do until July, 1819.

As soon as the news spread about that the Kickapoo Indians had surrendered their claim, white settlers came. Among them were Seymour Kellogg and his brother, Captain Elisha Kellogg. They located in the autumn of 1819 along the Mazoni river creek, north of the site of the Antioch church, and were the first white settlers in the territory erected in Morgan county in 1823.

Borden Wilcox was the brother of the second wife of Colonel Edwin Seymour. He married Almira, daughter of Colonel Seymour by his first wife, on Jan. 14, 1822.

"The memories of aged persons are frequently faulty as to dates. No records were kept of births in pioneer days. Traditions have it that Sarah, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crain, was born in Diamond Grove in 1820 and was the first female child born in the county and that Mr. and Mrs. James Coddington were the parents of the first male child born in the county, who was also born in Diamond Grove."

NATAL DAY MEETING OF MORGAN HISTORY
SOCIETY IS PLANNED

Civic Birthday Observance To Mark
Incorporation Of Jacksonville In Spring Of 1825.

On the evening of May 2 the Morgan County Historical Society will hold its natal day meeting at the Colonial Inn at 6:30 o'clock. This society celebrates the civic birthday to remind the people that Jacksonville was incorporated in the spring of 1825. This will be the city's one hundred and tenth birthday.

The meeting this year will be unique in that it will recall the two great characters which participated in the founding and early development of our colleges. The characters and the careers of the first chairman of the Board of Trustees of MacMurray College, Dr. Peter Cartwright and the first president of Illinois College, Dr. Edward Beecher will be the subjects presented.

Dr. Cartwright was a Methodist of the most militant type. He was born in Virginia in 1785 but when a mere child with his family moved to Kentucky, where he lived until he came to Illinois in 1824. He was wholly a product of the new west but probably no Methodist preacher of the day was so well and widely known.

Dr. Beecher was a member of one of the best known and most distinguished families in the country. He was a second son and third child of Lyman Beecher and was born in New England in 1803; was a valed
